Long Beach residents have relied on the Community Medical Center for high quality medical care for over 90 years. Unfortunately, seismic studies found that the hospital sits on a large and active fault line and MemorialCare, the current operator, announced that it would close the hospital in July, citing an inability to complete seismic upgrades.

I believe that members of the public have a right to make their voices heard. On March 27, I authored a motion directing the Emergency Medical Services Commission to hold a public meeting where residents can voice their concerns on the record and show their support for their local hospital.

Free parking is available. All are welcome.
